

Why become an ACP member?

Join us—we are stronger together.

Private Practice and/or Rural Physicians

ACP works for internists, providing education, clinical support, practice resources, and vigorous advocacy for issues that will make a difference in your daily work and your patients' health. Benefits of membership include:

- Top-tier clinical and practice resources—These include a subscription to Annals of Internal Medicine, evidence-based clinical guidelines and recommendations, and unlimited access to the clinical decision-support tool DynaMed®.
- High-quality CME and MOC resources—Access hundreds of learning opportunities in a variety of formats, most of which are free to members. Those that aren't free are deeply discounted, including MKSAP® and registration for the annual Internal Medicine Meeting.
- Timely educational and clinical tools—ACP has relevant, on-demand resources to help you navigate the changing health care landscape. Examples include ACP's COVID-19 resource hub and robust telemedicine resources.
- Point-of-care-ultrasound (POCUS) training—Learn new skills or refresh your training with our online training modules, courses, and podcasts, all of which include CME and MOC.
- Physician well-being and professional fulfillment—ACP offers tools, resources, and educational programs to reduce burnout and help your patients thrive.
- Advocacy—ACP vigorously advocates for policies that improve patients' health care and well-being along with persistently pushing for better reimbursement for internists and the elimination of unnecessary administrative tasks that hinder your practice of medicine.

As internal medicine evolves and new technologies and treatments develop, ACP will continue to create resources that help you stay current throughout your career and lifelong learning journey.